

How Integrated Solutions for Planetary Health Empower People & Protect Nature

Join Transition Earth for a solutions-oriented workshop with experts in conservation, health and community development at the 36th Annual Public Interest Environmental Law Conference in Eugene, Oregon.

Our March 3rd panel will focus on the impact of holistic, multi-sectoral approaches to development. Speakers will discuss successful on-the-ground projects and share stories of how linking human rights and reproductive rights & health with conservation can lead to empowered lives and thriving ecosystems.

Speakers: Stephanie Feldstein, Center for Biological Diversity; Trina Noonan, Health in Harmony; and Suzanne York, Transition Earth

When: Saturday, March 3rd
12:20 pm – 1:35pm

Where: University of Oregon, School of Law

Register for conference at www.pielc.org. For more information, please email info@transition-earth.org